Submit projects ...

My Hometown SLC Central Missionaries ...

It's not too early to submit projects for approval. Our official Days of Service will begin in April. We need your help identifying projects in advance so we can evaluate and prepare. Keep in mind projects will be selected on NEEDS. Homeowners physical and financial abilities will be considered. Family members are encouraged to participate. Also include neighbors when possible. Use your neighborhood representatives to include ALL homeowners in your assigned area, regardless of religious affiliation. Don't make promises until projects have been evaluated and approved. Look for ways we can assist renters that doesn't involve improving the property they are renting. Providing personal assistance without assuming their landlords responsibilities of property maintenance is permitted.

Financial Assistance

We can provide access to financial assistance in many areas that are beyond our physical abilities. Government and private citizen grants can assist with major repairs, painting, etc. Submit for evaluation.

We are happy to share our beautiful community center with Pastor Christopher Reed (center), from the Salt Lake Christian Church. They are now holding their Sunday services in our center.

We regretfully share news of the passing of Jeff Mann. Jeff recently joined My Hometown SLC Central as a new missionary. He was enthused to serve at the CRC in our music department. Jeff's many talents will be missed.

Thankful Thursdays

We are thankful for Thursdays! Our leaders deliver thank you gifts to the teachers nominated as exceptional by their principals.

Notice the students excitement to show off their amazing teachers, The first three pictures are from Liberty Elementary. The last two pictures are from Horizonte.
